SCRATCH

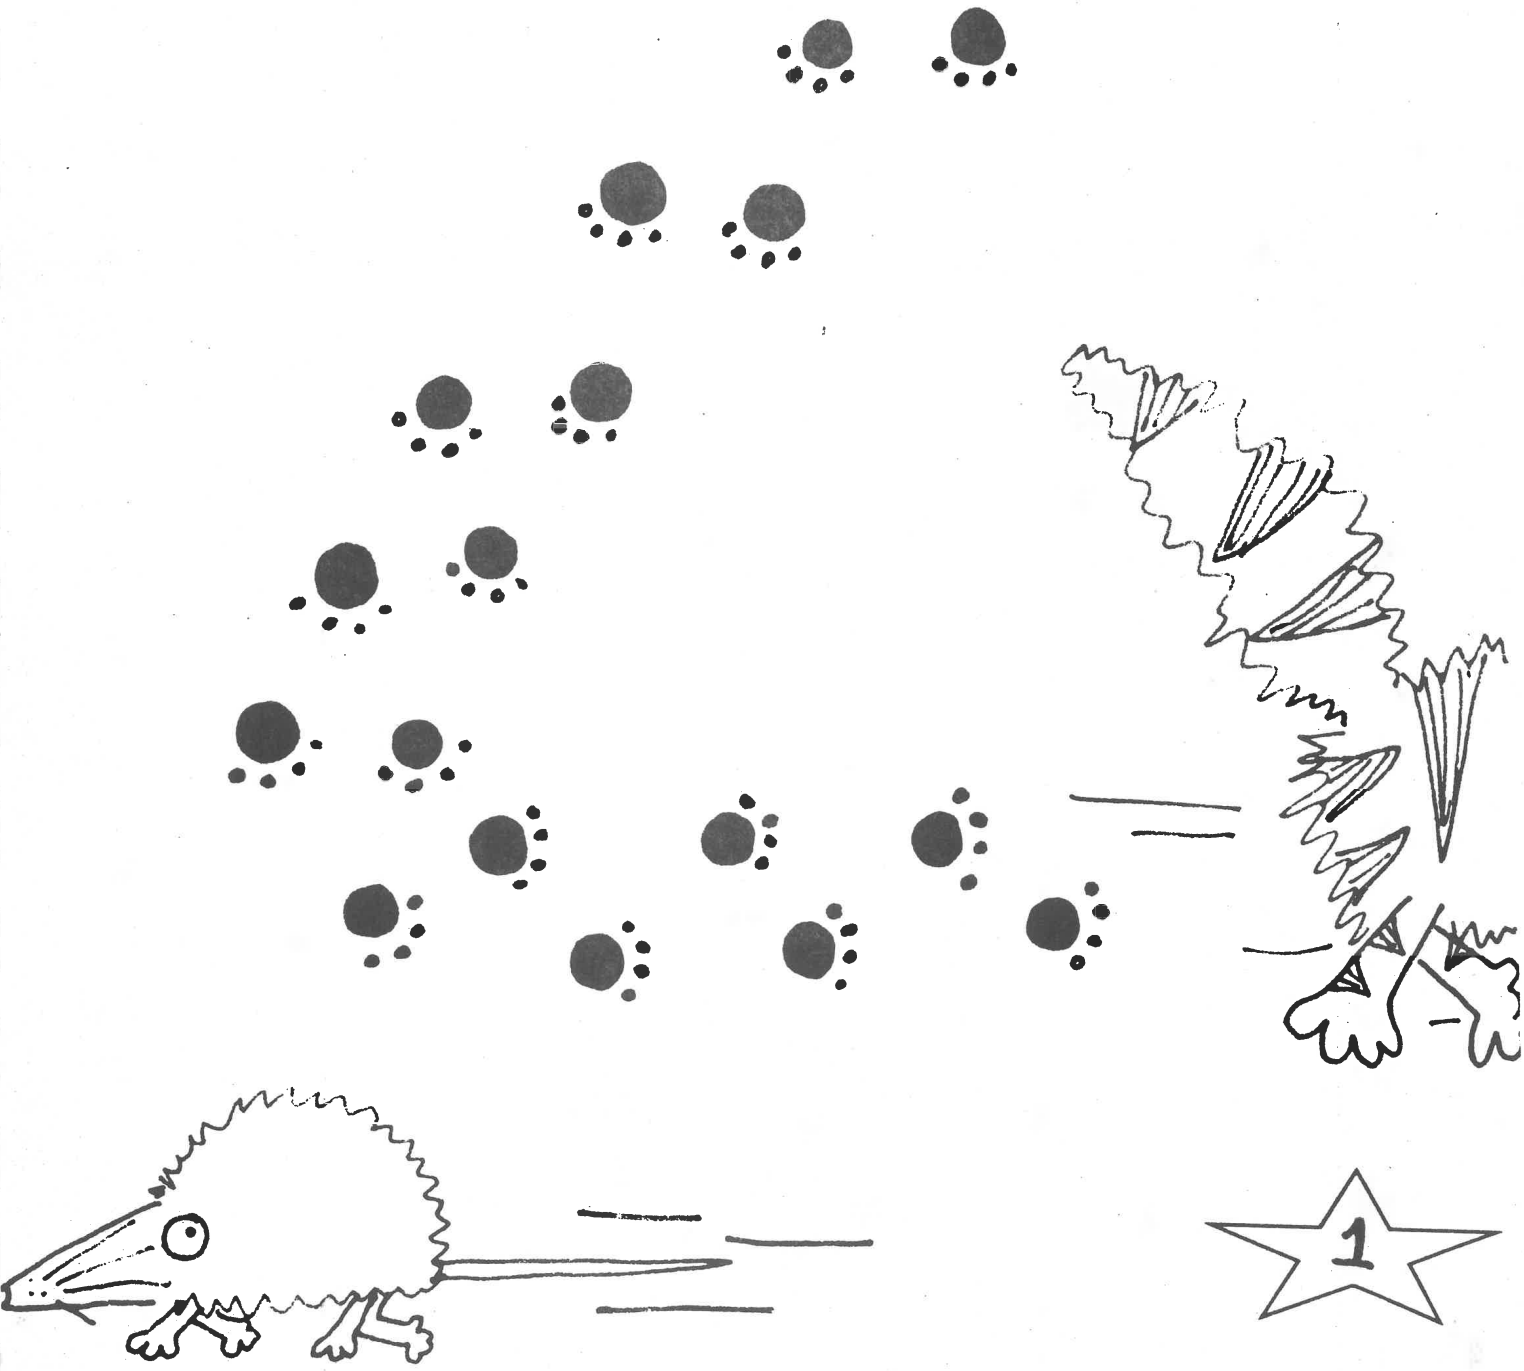
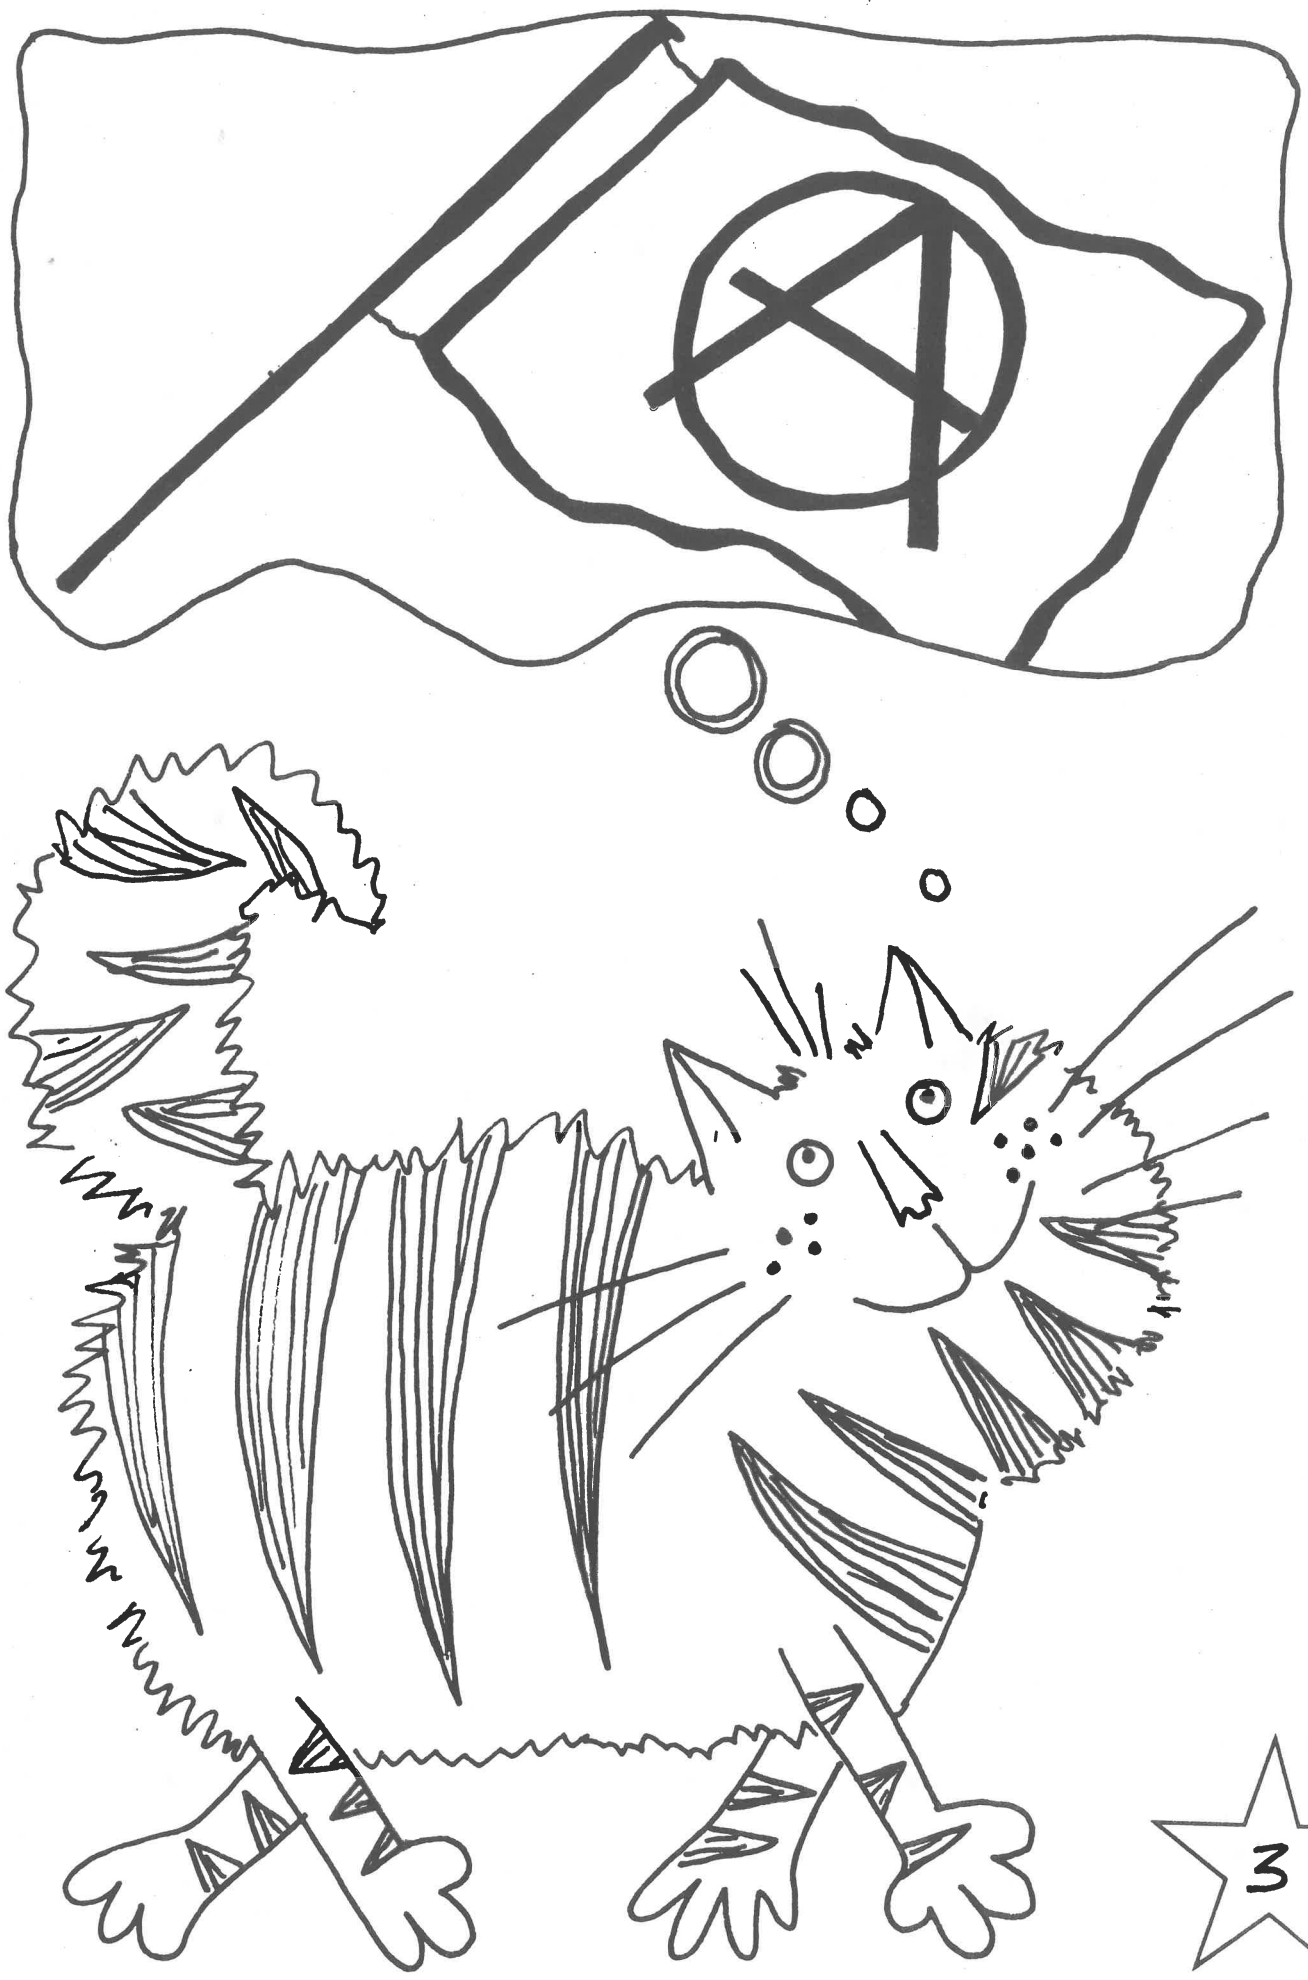
ThE AnaRchisT Cat



Scratch was an Anarchist cat
He liked everyone. As long as you gave him a tickle behind the ear, he would keep your bed warm all day long.

Scratch lived with six, human, squatters.
They loved Scratch and he loved them.



The squatters were more interesting to look at than most other people.

They had rings in their noses,
patches on their jeans,
colours in their hair,
smiles on their faces
and were very, very dirty.

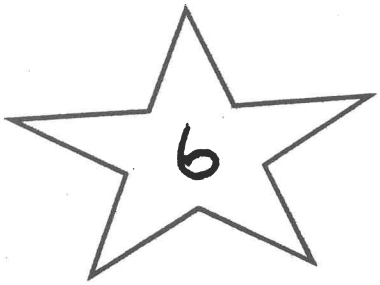
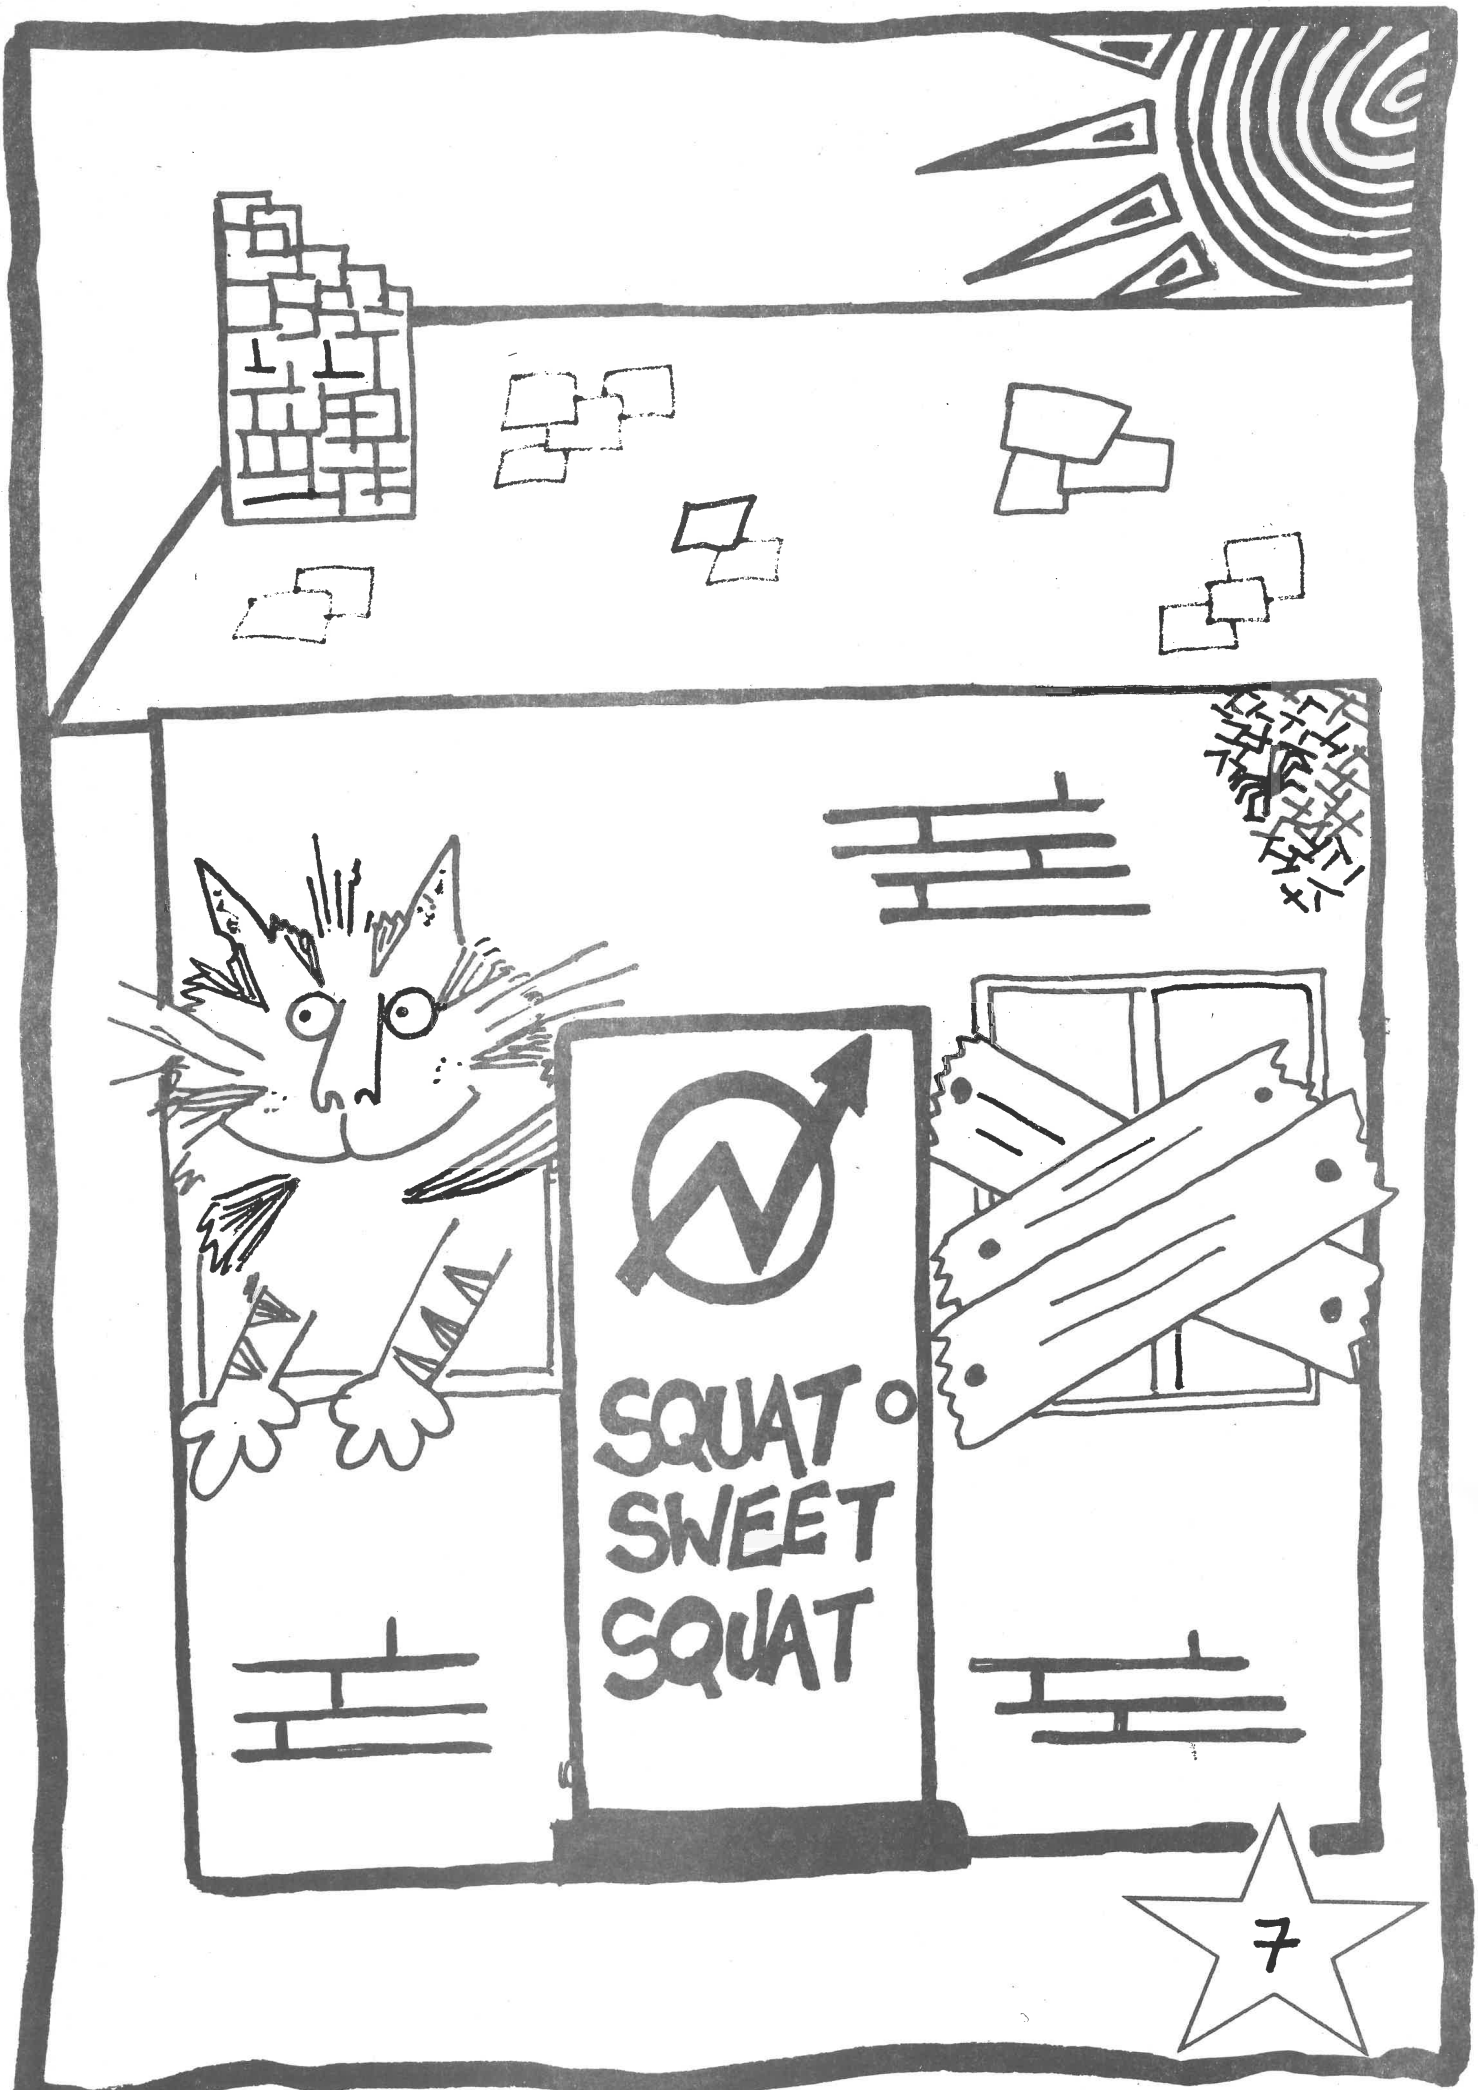
ANTISTAT

Scratch and the squatters were always moving house as they were always being asked to leave. With each new house came new smells and new things to explore.





SQUAT
SWEET
SQUAT

Scratch looked just like any other everyday housecat. He was clean, smelt fine and was very contented. Scratch gave more thought to his whiskers and fur than to animal rights.

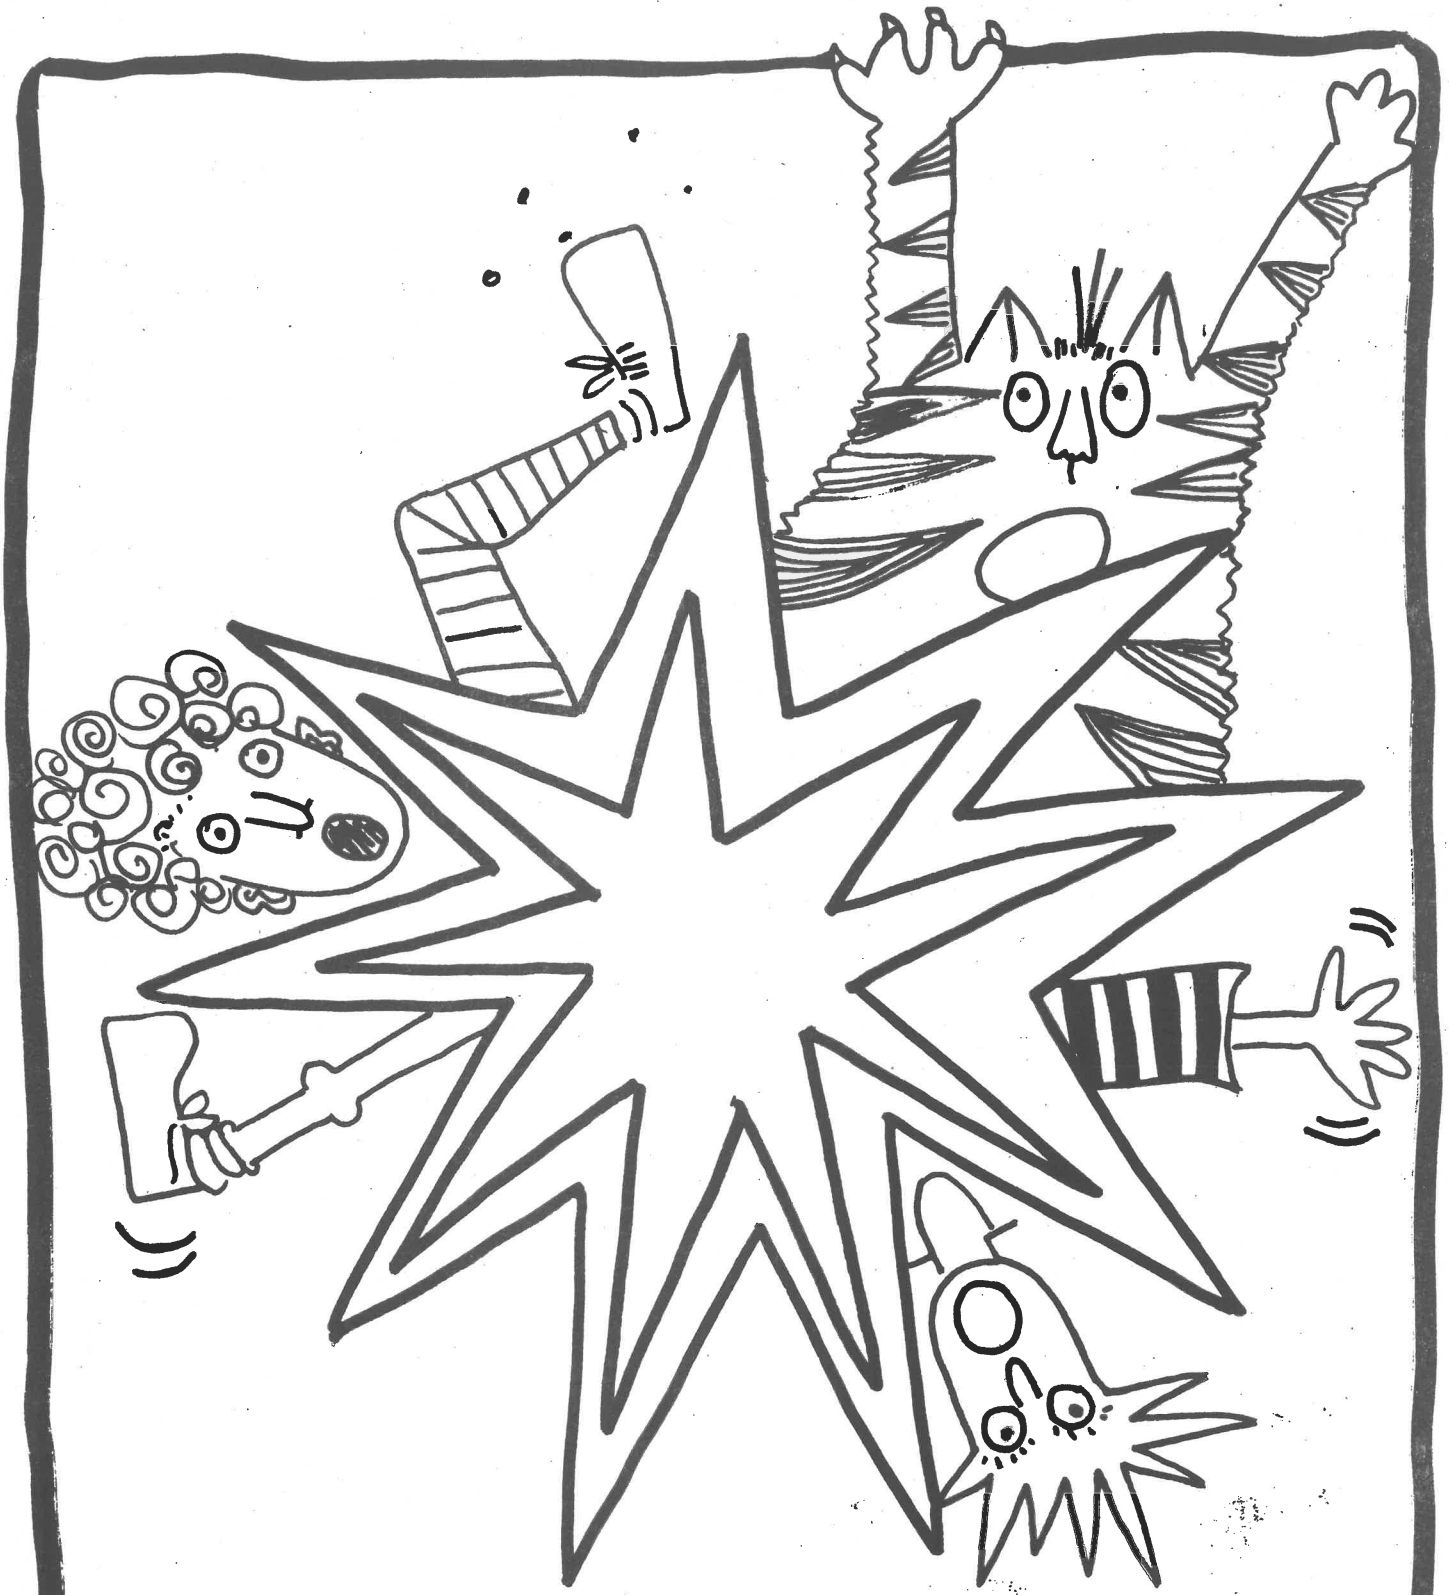
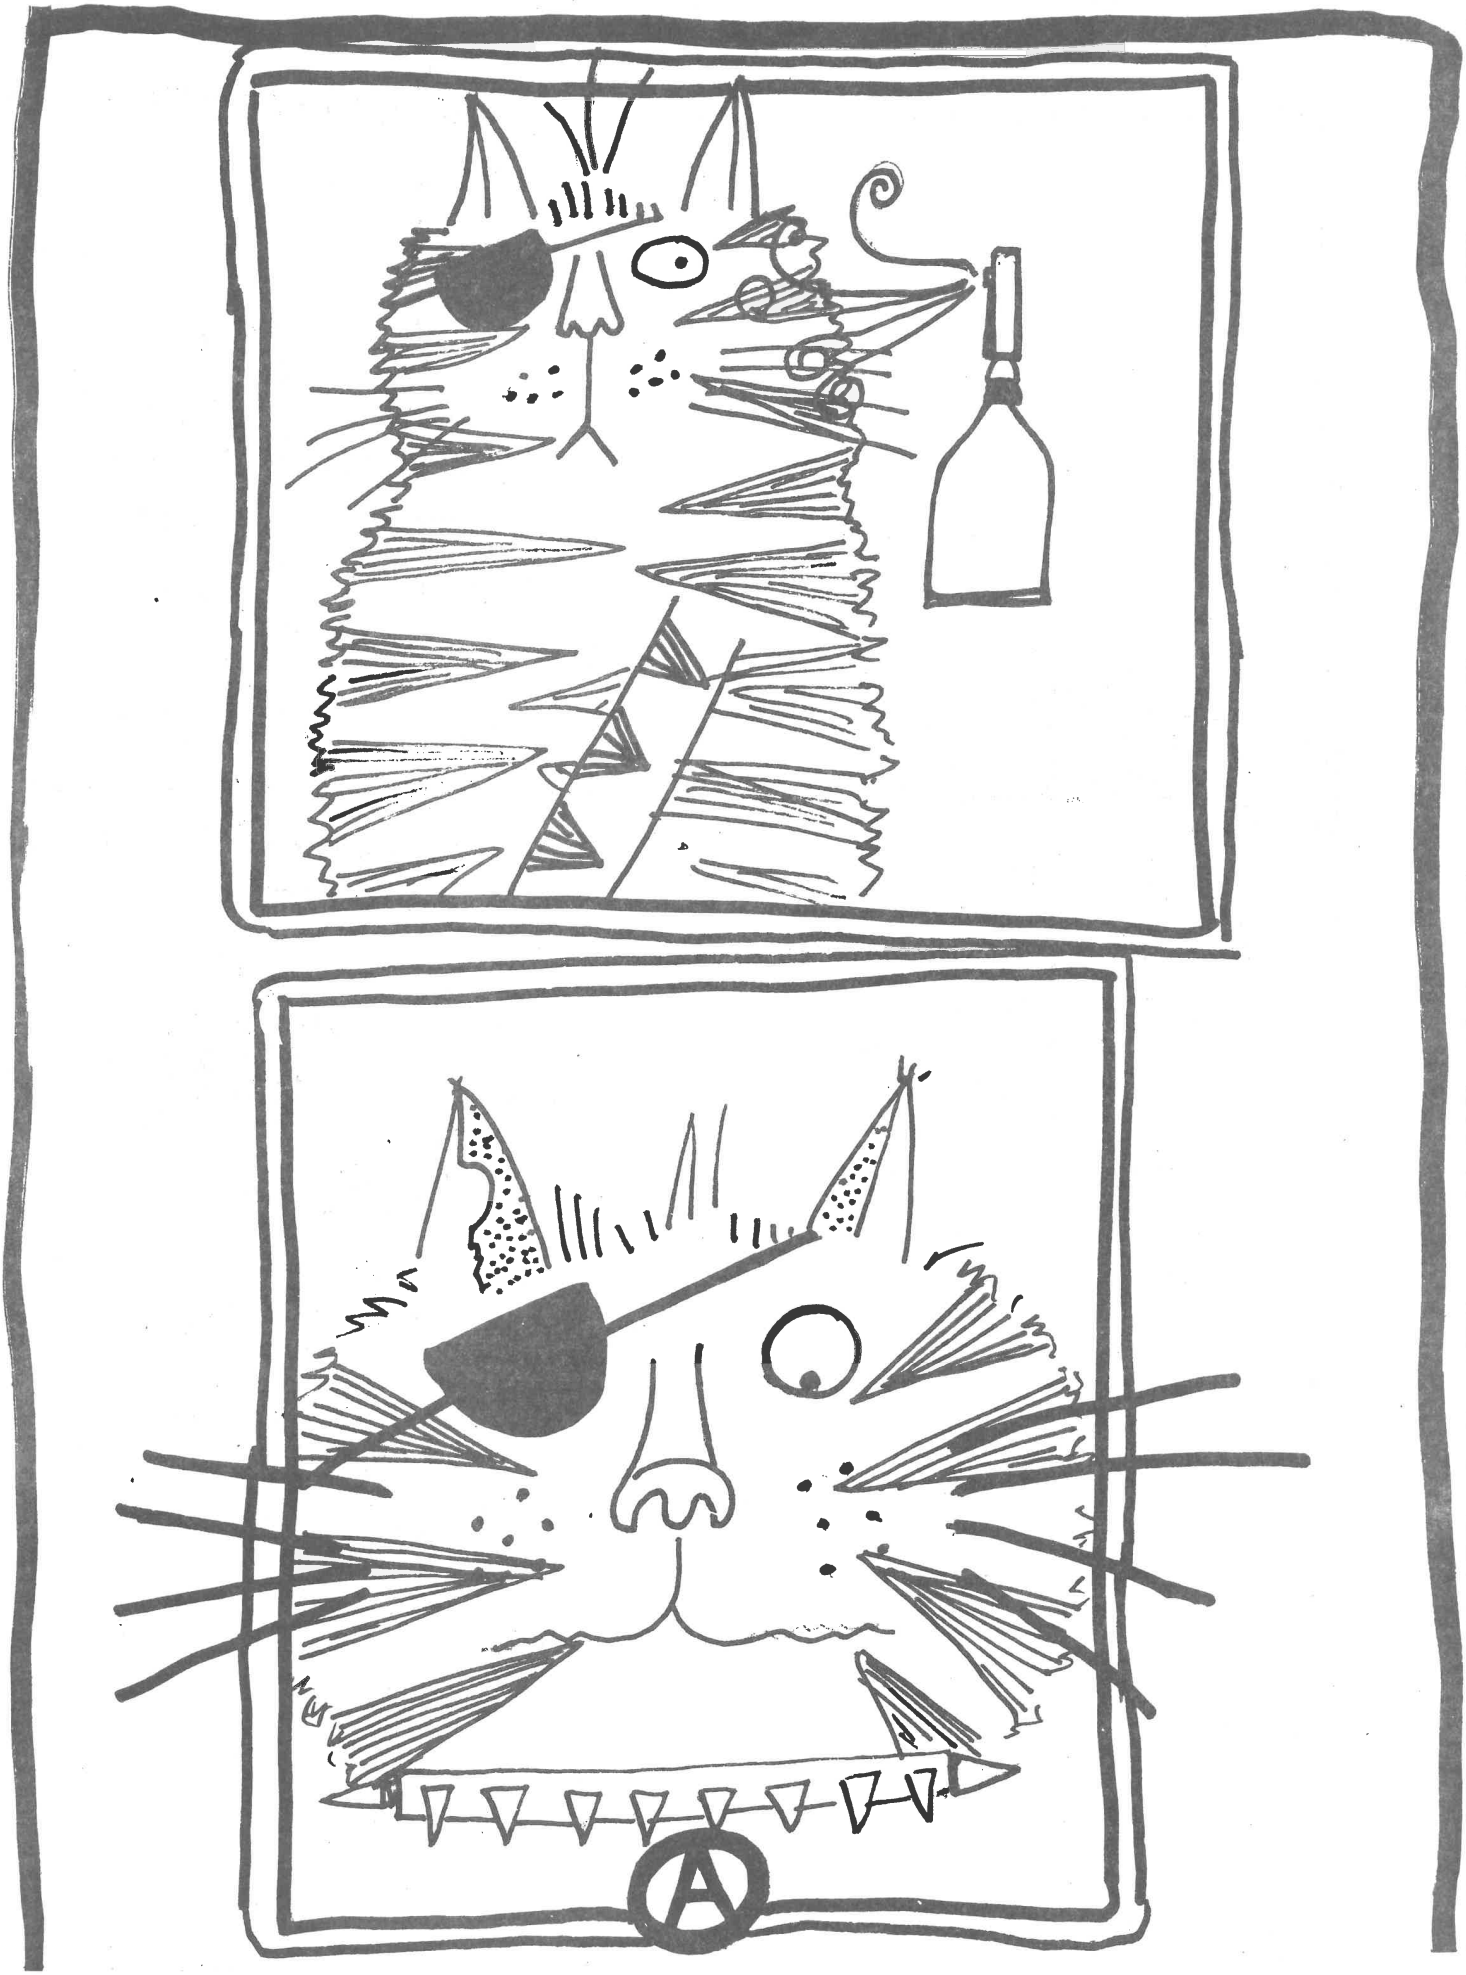
SOMETHING HAD TO BE DONE!!!!!

but they had to catch him first.....



They squatters jumped on Scratch
WHAT A RACKET !



They put a patch over his eye, sprayed him with home-brew dyed his fur and put a studded collar on him. Poor Scratch

DRAW A CAT YOU KNOW, or HOW YOU WOULD CHANGE SCRATCH

or, PAINT WHAT COLOUR YOU WOULD LIKE YOUR HAIR TO BE.

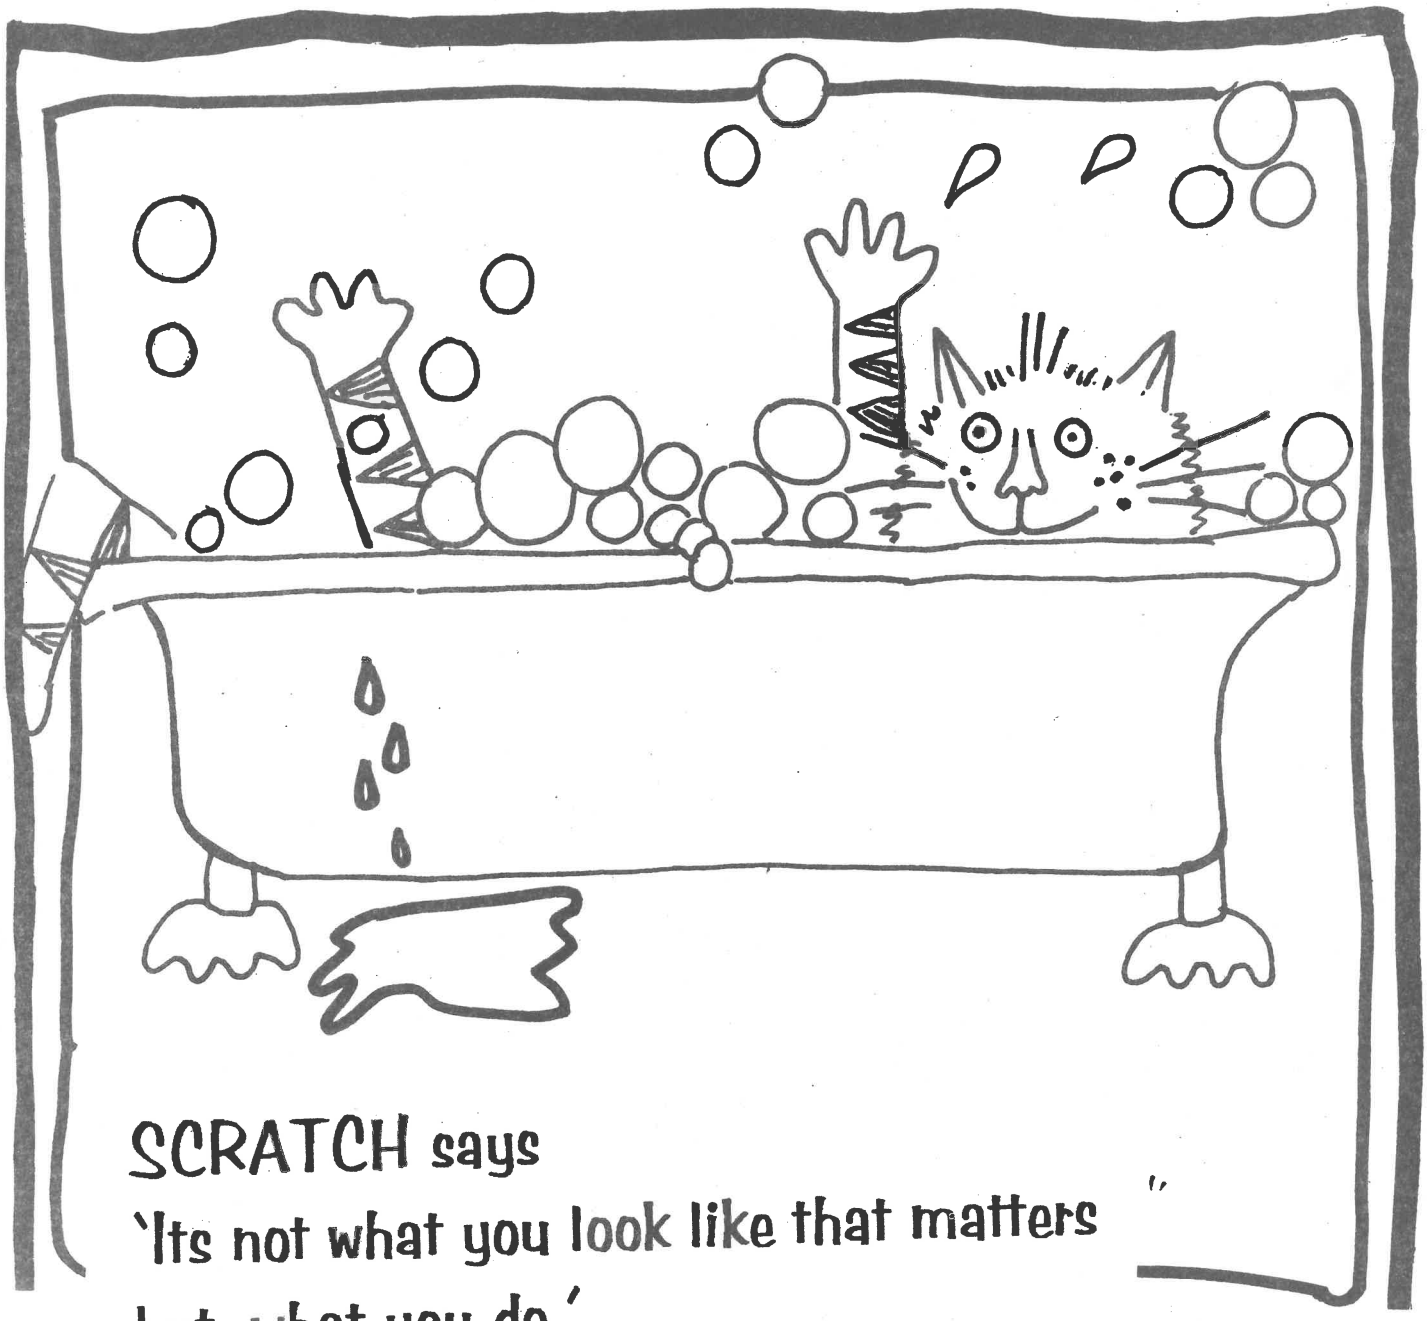
Scratch slunk away feeling very sorry for himself.
BUT NOT FOR LONG.....



SCRATCH says
'Its not what you look like that matters but, what you do.'
